

I want to be an influencer

Influencers – people who earn money from the internet

Influencers are very popular among the young generation. There's nobody who doesn't know one of them. You can see them on YouTube, Instagram, TikTok and many other platforms.

It's definitely stressful, even though many older people say it's not a real job. Influencers often have to get on with hate or cyber mobbing. Their life isn't easy, because everybody recognises them on the street, in the restaurant or somewhere else.

But this job also has advantages! You can work at home, and you can do everything you want. If you like gaming, you can post videos of computer games. If you want to film scenes about your life, you can post vlogs. You are your own chief and you can work whenever you want. You can make a lot of money just with uploading videos on YouTube or photos on Instagram.

These are the most important reasons, why I want to be an influencer! I will try it and I will do my best!

But I don't just want to earn much money with this job. I want to entertain people and make their day better if they are feeling sad.

In fact, the most famous YouTuber of the world is called "Ryan's world" and he earns $29,5 million a year! But what's the crazy fact about this boy? He is only nine years old!

The most youtubers are 20-40 years old, but there are not just young people. There are also influencers who are 90 years or even older!

So, it doesn't matter how old you are, you can always be an influencer and do this job very well!
